Verse

C	F C	F	C
---	-----	---	---

The day that Hasegawa's burnt down disbelief washed over the town
It was arson, there was no doubt and though they tried their best to put the fire out
And the years roll on and our children grow it's memory they'll sadly never know

F	%	C / / G7	C / G7 /
---	---	----------	----------

how could it suddenly be gone after all these years the fierceness of the flames kept turning them back but by then they'll have ones of their own

---	-----	---	---

then the anger settled in who was guilty of this mortal sin when the morning sun rose up out of the sea there was nothing left but a memory
One day one of theirs will die some will stare and some will cry

F	%	C / / G7	C / G7 /
---	---	----------	----------

who among us could commit such a crime every rainbow color charred to black just like us they'll wonder where the years have flown

Chorus

G	%	F	C
---	---	---	---

Some people stared and some people cried it felt a little like a friend had died

F	C	D	G6

and everybody knew inside it could never be the same
